PRESIDENTS MESSAGE 2025

Hi everyone, it's that time of the year again! I'm so glad to welcome you to the Mullumbimby Show, a true celebration of community spirit and family fun.

I'm incredibly proud of our committee members who volunteer their time and energy to make this event possible. Your dedication and hard work are the backbone of our show, and I'm grateful for your efforts. I'd also like to extend my thanks to the many other volunteers who help at working bees throughout the year and on show weekend, including our local sporting groups, service clubs, and rescue workers - your contributions are invaluable.

I'd also like to extend my thanks to our generous sponsors, both new and returning, who support us every year. We couldn't put on a show without you!

To all our attendees, competitors, and exhibitors, I offer a warm welcome. We're excited to share a packed program with you, featuring some new events and some old favourites.

This year's theme in the main pavilion is Tradies and Their Tools and we have some exciting new additions to our entertainment lineup including traditional woodworking demonstrations. We're also looking forward to the Mullum Mullet Competition, a Woodchop Display by the North Coast Axemen's Association, and our inaugural All Breeds Horseman's Challenge. These events join our usual lineup of horse events, trotting, the truck show, show jumping, motorcycle barrel racing, and the sideshow alley.

Our entertainment program is shaping up to be fantastic, with band The Crow performing a powerhouse blend of B-side 80's classics and hand-hitting modern rock on the main stage on Saturday evening, accompanied by fireworks. Sunday will feature the Show and Shine, and both Saturday and Sunday will showcase the Airtime FMX team's thrilling aerobatics. The crowd favourite Demolition Derby will take place on Sunday, with the One 2 Many Band closing the Show.

Thank you all for your support, and I look forward to seeing you at the show!

This year's theme is "Tradies and their tools. " We're focusing on smoko, which is known mainly as a short break from work, originally associated with smoking cigarettes. While smoking remains relevant in some contexts, "Smoko" now refers to a brief rest, whether for a cigarette, a cup of tea, or just a quick break.

While traditional smoko might have involved sweeter and less healthy options, there are now more options like fresh fruit, vegetables with dips, nuts, and seeds.

However, that sounds a little too healthy for some of our hardworking tradies, so we'll stick to the more traditional, often less healthy options, home-made baking.

So, what will you make for your tradies' smoko box?

Option 1. An Anzac Slice with a twist! You can add any ingredient to the slice or perhaps a chocolate topping- a choice that's entirely up to you.

Option 2. Get creative! Cook your tradie's favourite smoko recipe and share a story about your tradie and why this recipe is their favourite.

Class 300 - Anzac Slice with a twist

Class 301 - Your Tradie's favourite smoko recipe (plus share a story about your tradie and why this is their favourite)

School Sculpture/Display Competition

Our Local Tradies and their Tools

We all have trades people we call on in our daily lives to help in a wide range of situations. Our unique little pocket of the Far North Coast has been very fortunate to attract people who bring a variety of trades to our area. Traditional tradies are men with trades such as plumbers, mechanics, builders, electricians, painters, brick layers just to name a few. Australians are great for nick names and our tradies have been branded too. Bricky (bricklayers), Sparky (electrician), Chippy (carpenters), Grease Monkey (mechanic). In our modern world women share these trades and nick names too. Can you think of other trades and tradies that work in our area?
